Vice Prez Says

Hello rock lovers, this letter is to inform you all, that after heavy considerations, we the club will be postponing the June Picnic until further notice. We owe you the member an opportunity to be available to show up and with no reservations of health potential. Since most of us are over the hill, “very large life rock”, and have had several life threatenings, surgeries and dependent on a plethora of pills, “crushed rocks”, we feel it safer that we stay away from each other a little bit longer, throw distance”. We do need to probably meet at the standard building at least once and get a good head count before purchase our BBQ etc. Do stay positive during this time and know that we choose to be good stewards of the positions we hold, and the care of our members comes first.

I am however open to club members visiting others at their homes for rock sales etc., for the ones that just have to get out and visit, I'll run this idea by Lee Adams and maybe make one meeting place at his location, others could take a tables worth of their stuff to trade. This would be one way to reconnect, still practice safety and begin our valued passion for geology.

—Steve Perez, Vice President

June’s Birthstone & Flowers

The June birthstone is the pearl; the flowers are the rose and the honeysuckle.

Pearl

Rose

Honeysuckle

Pearls can be found in a variety of soft hues and palettes. They are formed inside of an oyster's shell, usually via a grain of sand that enters the shell. The clam cannot eject this irritant and so it encases it in a hard substance that eventually forms the pearl.

Both of June's flowers are tied strongly with love.

Roses of different colors have multiple meanings. For instance, white roses can stand for innocence or purity. Red roses are synonymous with love. Conversely, yellow roses mean a loss of love.

The number of roses also have meaning. A bouquet is given for gratitude; a single rose amplifies the meaning behind the color.

Honeysuckle is a strong symbol for the bonds of everlasting love.
